

PEER-TO-PEER MENTORING MADE EASY

GROW YOUR KNOWLEDGE ECONOMY
SKILLS

THIS GUIDE IS AVAILABLE FOR PERSONAL, PRIVATE USE
ONLY NOT FOR COPIES, SALES OR DISTRIBUTION.

© 2021 ALL RIGHTS RESERVED PROJECTSKILLSMENTOR.COM

GET READY: QUESTIONS TO ASK YOURSELF.

Forums and communities to get and give help from peers. And a few things to consider before you share.

WHERE CAN I FIND A PEER MENTOR/GROUP?

- In my local Community
- A course or club
- Facebook group
- Other

WHAT SKILLS OR KNOWLEDGE CAN I SHARE?

- Technical know-how
- Craft know-how
- Specific Skills
- Other

WHAT SKILLS OR KNOWLEDGE DO I NEED?

- Technical know-how
- Craft know-how
- Specific Skills
- Other

WHAT ARE MY PEER MENTORING GOALS?

- Ad hoc (in the moment)
- Join a community (online or live)
- Grow my skills
- Other

OTHER THOUGHTS?

Four horizontal yellow lines for writing.

GET SET: FIND YOUR TRIBE .

When you join a group, it may be useful to start by listening to see how and what people share, how advice or feedback is given.

- if in a live group, ask a few questions, get to know people.
- if online, read past posts and contributions.

When you do start to ask and answer -
"check-in" with yourself if this is the:

Right place?

Right time?

Right tone?

- Am I in the right place to ask or answer this question?
- Has this group already covered this point?
- Does my question or answer communicate clearly?
- Would a reference, link, or photo add to my input?
- Is my tone and wording consistent with my intention?

Becoming part of the knowledge economy by peer mentoring can increase your confidence, create new connections, and more.

Note: If your peer mentoring is one-on-one remember to keep confidential discussions private, and let the other person know if you consider the information share private.

GO! JOURNAL YOUR PEER MENTORING .

Peer to Peer mentoring is not hard, you probably do it every day. Share a little, learn a little and grow a lot. Log what you have learned and review from time to time.

3 things I Learned this week:

3 things I Shared this week:

References for the future:

People to Connect with:

